ONE DOLLAR A YEAR

HOLKINSVILLE, CHRISTIAN COUNTY KENTUCKY FRIDAY JULY 8 1904

VOLUME XXXIV, NO. 39

NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

ALTON B. PARKER.
His Nomination Is Probable.

Assembled Tuesday
In Coliseum At St.
Louis.

OPENED WITH PRAYER.

Called To Order By National Committeeman Jones.—

Temporary Chairman
John S. Williams
Makes a Great Speech.

JOHN SHARP WILLIAMS.
The Temporary Chairman.

JUDGE PARKER LIKELY TO BE NAMED ON FIRST BALLOT.

(Special to New Era).
ST. LOUIS, July 6.—The Democratic National convention was called to order at noon today by Senator James K. Jones, of Arkansas, chairman of the national committee. The balconies and galleries of the big Coliseum were well filled long before a time set for the opening of the session. It is extremely hot and the air, despite the electric fans, is almost stifling.

Delegates Cheered.

As the state delegations entered the hall they were cheered by the spectators. The delegates from Hawaii carrying handsome banners received prolonged applause. William Jennings Bryan came into the hall at the head of the Nebraska delegation and he was cheered.

The convention was opened with prayer, an impressive and earnest invocation being spoken by the Rev. Dr. John S. Cannon, pastor of the Grand Avenue Presbyterian church, of this city.

The official call for the convention was then read by the secretary of the national committee, after which, the Hon. John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, the popular leader of the minority in the house of representatives, assumed the gavel as temporary chairman of the convention amid enthusiastic and prolonged cheers and applause.

Great Speech.

Mr. Williams delivered one of the ablest speeches of his life and one of the greatest ever heard in a national convention. It was a characteristic, and thoroughly appropriate, highly eloquent at times, couched in terse language and teeming with wit, and on the most elevated plane of patriotism, it was a splendid expression of Democratic principles, pure and undefiled.

Cheers For Cleveland.

When in the course of his address Mr. Williams spoke of Grover Cleveland there was great applause for the former president and cries of "Grover! Grover!"

Mr. Williams said, in ridiculing Roosevelt's conceit and self-assertiveness, "Gen. Joe Wheeler was more in evidence at San Juan than the 'Strenuous Himself,' and Joe Wheeler is a Democrat." The Republicans, he said, claimed all the credit for good legislation though it was enacted by both parties. In summing up he said:

For Good of All.

"Our nominee will act under the constitution for the good of all, and not for the exclusive good of tariff beneficiaries."

When Mr. Williams ended his speech there was wild cheering while the band played "Dixie."

After the announcement of the various committees the convention will adjourn until tomorrow.

Will Win.

The prospect is that Judge Alton B. Parker, of New York, candidate of the conservative forces, will win handsily, the radical field coming in a poor second.

It seems certain today that he will be nominated on the first ballot.

Not only does it appear that the control of the nomination for first place on the ticket will be in the hands of Parker Democrats but that they will select the nominee's running mate and dominate the platform on which the race will be made.

In defiance of such handicaps as were created by the ambitious friends of Gorman, Cleveland, Gray, Olney, McClellan and favorite sons who had followings that divided the conservative columns, this element which advanced the claims of Democratic rehabilitation struggled against the combined opposition of Bryan, representing the ruling Democratic force in the last two presidential contests, and the personal campaign conducted by William Randolph Hearst.

WILLIAM R. HEARST.
He Is Also Running.

Parker and Beckham.

After perfecting its organization, the principal feature was the re-election of Mr. Urey Woodson as national committeeman by the Kentucky delegation and instructing its chairman, Ollie M. James, to cast the twenty-six votes of the commonwealth for Alton B. Parker, of New York, for president and for Gov. J. C. W. Beckham, of Kentucky, for vice president, so long as their names may be before the convention. The instruction for president was given by a vote of twenty-four to two, while that of vice president was unanimous. The following persons were honored by committee assignments as representatives of Kentucky at the National convention today:

For National committeeman—Urey Woodson, of Owensboro.

For chairman of the delegation—Ollie M. James, of Marion.

For committee on resolutions—Gov. J. C. W. Beckham.

For committee on credentials—Senator J. C. S. Blackburn.

For committee on organization—Senator James B. McCreary.

For committee on notification of the presidential nominee—John W. Colyar, of Somerset.

For committee on notification of vice presidential nominee—M. L. Downs, of Carrollton.

For committee on rules and order of business—June W. Gayle, of Owen.

(Special to New Era.)

ST. LOUIS, July 7.—The Democratic National convention was called to order promptly at 10 o'clock this morning by Temporary Chairman John Sharp Williams.

Prayer Offered.

Prayer was offered by Bishop John Glennon, of St. Louis. The first business was the consideration of the report of the committee on rules and order which was read by the chairman, Thomas F. Grady.

The committee decided to seat the delegates from Porto Rico.

Not a Member.

The chairman refused to recognize a gentleman from the Philippines on the grounds that he was not a member of the convention.

Repeated interruptions of speakers by delegates in different parts of the house called forth a rebuke from the chairman, who said:

"When the Angel Gabriel shall stand on the top of the mount and announce through his megaphone the crash of creation, somebody will still call, 'Louder.'"

Takes a Recess.

The committee on platform and credentials not being ready to report, the convention on motion, adjourned until two o'clock this afternoon.

Bryan Ovation.

At two o'clock this afternoon the Coliseum began filling rapidly. At 2:14, W. J. Bryan entered and was greeted by great applause. All over the building delegates and spectators stood and shouted his name. The ovation was a remarkable one in every respect, and enthusiasm was unbounded.

Hearing Reports.

The afternoon will be consumed in the consideration of reports of committees.

Voted Down.

The committee on rules voted down a proposition to abolish the rule requiring a two-thirds vote for a nomination.

Resolution Committee.

The committee on resolutions organized with Senator Daniel, of Virginia, as chairman. A subcommittee of eleven was appointed to consider the various drafts of a platform. Kentucky has no representative on the subcommittee. Mr. Bryan was not among those who had a draft of platform to offer.

Clark Selected.

The committee on permanent organization has selected the Hon. Champ Clark, of Missouri, as permanent chairman. Mr. Clark had expected to present Senator Cockrell's name for president, but another orator will be selected. Senator J. W. Bailey, of Texas, declined the chairmanship in order to take part in the discussion of the platform.

Booming Beckham.

Half a dozen state delegations have signified their intention of voting for Gov. Beckham for the vice presidential nomination, and it is probable his name will be presented to the convention by Congressman Ollie James. The Kentucky delegation is enthusiastic over the movement, though the governor is taking no hand in it.

Parker's Strength.

The steady growth of the Parker strength has continued unchecked. In the face of the developments in the convention session, the nebulous opposition grew more uncertain, and no one can be found to stand for any definite statement that the New Yorker will meet with opposition of a serious character when the convention is polled for first place on the ticket.

Delegates that have wavered in the balance have succumbed to the Parker tide with a few exceptions and these are not expected to withstand the almost assured results of the vote as it proceeds, but will change to the Parker column before the roll call is finished.

There is evidence that the Tammany people probably will keep very quiet and make no move either to support by word, as they must support by vote, the Parker boom, or declare against it. Senator Hill is so confident of victory that he is talking over the second man on the ticket.

Senator Smith, of New Jersey, is quoted as saying that he had received a telegram from Mr. Cleveland declining positively to have his name presented, and that Parker was therefore their second choice. No positive confirmation, however, was to be had of the receipt of such message.

Second Place.

For second place on the ticket it can hardly be said that speculation now centers on any one man. A half dozen names are on the tongues of the crowds that gather in the lobbies and various headquarters, but the general sentiment is that this matter should be left to ripen until after the head of the ticket has been formally named.

There is enough of gossip to satisfy, but aside from the argument in behalf of George Turner, of Washington, there was no well defined vice presidential boom.

Yeaman-Sebree.

Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Garth Sebree of Henderson, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Myra Lewis Sebree, to James Moore Yeaman. The wedding will take place in November.

HERN'S TRIAL NEXT THURSDAY

Mother, Sister and Brothers of the Prisoner
Are With Him in Court.—Will Endeavor to Show He Killed Father in Self Defense.

(From Thursday's Daily.)

Mack Hern, who shot and killed his father, James Hern, Monday night, appeared today with his attorneys, Judge James Breathitt and Judge Charles H. Bush, before County Judge W. T. Fowler, and the date of his examining trial was set for next Thursday.

On motion of the defense one witness, L. F. Barlow, was recognized to appear at the trial.

In the absence of County Attorney O. H. Anderson, the commonwealth was represented by Mr. C. O. Prowse.

Mrs. Hern, the first wife of the dead man who was divorced from him several years ago, her daughter and two sons, James and Hayden, were in the courtroom, seated by the prisoner. Their greeting him when he was brought by the jailer into court was very affecting.

It is claimed by friends of young Hern that a strong case of self-defense will be presented.

Some Interesting News and Notes From the Macedonia Vicinity.

Macedonia, Ky., July 6.—Dr. D. M. White, of Horace, went to Kuttawa June 29th with a view to locating there in the drug business.

—Miss Lou Cline, of this place, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Magg Blacklock, at Claxton.

—The preaching at Macedonia last Sunday was largely attended by the young people.

—Mr. Frank Adams, the new mail carrier, made his first round from Pod, via Clardy and Macedonia to Dawson Springs and back on July 1. Macedonia now gets three mails a week instead of two as heretofore.

—We miss very much the coming to Macedonia of our old tried and true friend and former mail carrier, James Witty, of Hopkinsville.

—The picnic at Claxton on the 4th was rained out at noon and the expected speaking from candidates was not heard.

—Married at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. Sam Simpson to Miss Minnie Eli, near Larkin, by Elder John W. McCarroll. After the marriage ceremony Elder McCarroll delivered a discourse on the subject of "What must I do to be saved."

—The wheat crop in this section is pronounced better than last year. This immediate neighborhood is still in need of a good rain.

—The Macedonia public school opens July 5, with H. L. Thomas as teacher.

—Elder G. W. Davis will preach the funeral of S. D. Word at Lewis-town, Ky., on the 5th Sunday in July.

—John W. McCarroll will preach the second Sunday at Roberts' School house.

—The hay crop of this vicinity is not so good as last year, but it is now ready for the sickle.

Each Subscriber Is Made
"His Own Telephone Girl."

In order to install the new system the Cumberland was forced to virtually rebuild their entire plant. All old cables and lines were taken down and new ones put up, these cables ranging in cost from 60c to $4.50 per foot. Up Main, Ninth, Virginia, Campbell and other streets which in the past were a network of wires overhead, there is now hardly any to be seen. On several streets at places where are poles from which even the cross arms have been taken, the poles supporting nothing but the cables. The subscribers to the Cumberland are today trying the new system and all pronounce it greatly superior to the old. It is claimed it will be even better when the new instruments are all placed in position. There are now no party lines in the city, each phone being on a direct and private line.

WEATHER FOR JULY

PROPHET HICKS PRE-DICTS A SCORCHER.

Month Will Be Hot With Numerous Thunder
Storms.

A summary of the weather conditions for July as figured out by Rev.
Eli R. Hicks, follows:

This month begins in the last stage of a storm period central on June the 23rd. Storm and perturbations of this period will be well on their way toward the Atlantic by the 1st and 2nd, with fair and cooler weather following from the west.

A reactionary storm period is central from the 4th to the 8th. As the moon is on the celestial equator on the 4th, we may reasonably calculate on a decided rise in temperature, ending in thunder and rainstorms
during these reactionary days.

If the general tendency is to excessive heat and light rains from the 4th to 8th, and from the 9th to 14th, it will be safe to count on a predominance of such weather nearly or quite up to September.

Upon the other hand, should cooler weather and general rains and storms be the rule at these periods, much of the same kind of weather will characterize all the storm periods, for the following six or eight weeks.

About the 11th to 14th, the central dates of the second July storm period, no one should be surprised by a wave of excessive warm weather, culminating in many threatening storms and violent dangerous blustering.

Heavy hail storms, especially to the west and north, will most likely attend these disturbances, in which event temporary change to much cooler may naturally be expected.

On and touching the 17th, 18th and 19th warm wave with threatening storm clouds and some rain and hail.

A regular Vulcan storm period covers the 21st to the 24th. Another very warm wave, attended by storm conditions, with some rain and severe bluster, may be expected. A brief partial respite from great warmth will probably succeed the disturbances of this period.

On and touching the 27th and 28th reactionary storm conditions will return with more than ordinary intensity.

Great warmth will, in every probability, reach a climax on and next to these dates. This is also a time when many seismic disturbances may naturally be expected—probably not dangerous or destructive in any place, but quite general along the sensitive earthquake zones of the globe.

COURT IS OVER.

(From Saturday's Daily)
Circuit court adjourned yesterday after one of the most uneventful terms in the history of the county.
The term lasted for four weeks, but the cases tried were nearly all civil suits and the majority of these were small and unimportant.

Over-Work Wakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers; they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits.

It is sold in fifty-

BANK OF PEMBROKE

MR. M. L. LEVY BECOMES
THE PRESIDENT.

Mr. Garnett Retires on Account of Age.—O. E. Layne
Vice President.

(From Friday's Daily.)

A change of officers will take place at the Bank of Pembroke today, according to the Pembroke Journal, which will occasion some surprise so far as the public is concerned. The new officers elected are M. L. Levy, president; O. E. Layne, vice president. Douglas Graham will continue with the bank in the capacity of capacity of cashier. Mr. Layne has just resigned the cashiership of the Bank of Adams, at Adams, Tenn., and will today assume his new duties with the Bank of Pembroke.

Mr. W. W. Garnett, the retiring president, retires on account of his age. He has been prominently identified with the business interests of Pembroke from its infancy. In fact, Pembroke and Mr. Garnett began the journey of life together. He was the first president of the first bank, and has just rounded out fourteen years of active and efficient service in that capacity.

We trust that the Bank of Pembroke, under its new management, will continue to prosper as under the old.

SON SHOOTS HIS FATHER.

Another Tragedy Similar to the Hern Case.
--Three Bullets Fired at a Dance.

Another shooting case similar to the Hern tragedy is reported.

At a picnic at Ball Knob school-house, this county, Henry Baxter was shot and perhaps fatally wounded by his son, Belton Baxter. The men were participating in a dance when difficulty arose between them. The young man fired three shots, two of them taking effect in his father's body. The Baxters came to Christian county from Illinois about six months ago and have been engaged in cutting cross-ties. Young Baxter has not been arrested.

NATURE TELLS YOU

As Many a Hopkinsville Reader Knows Too Well.

When the kidneys are sick. Nature tells you about it. The urine is nature's calendar. Infrequent or too frequent action; Any urinary trouble tells of kidney ills.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills.

Hopkinsville people testify to this. James A. Twyman, brick mason, of 1200 S. Virginia street, says: "Disorders of the kidneys brought on in my case so sharp and continual a succession of pains and aches throughout my back that I could not rest comfortably at night and arose in the morning lame and sore. I was tired and worn out from morning to night. The kidney secretions were irregular, high-colored and scalding and deposited a heavy sediment if allowed to stand. I had no energy left and felt generally run down. I was feeling worse than usual when my attention was attracted by an advertisement of Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a box at Thomas & Trahern's drug store and began using them in a few days I noticed that the secretions had assumed a natural appearance and the pain and aching had been greatly relieved and by the time I had completed the box there was a wonderful change in my condition I am glad to state that I am practically cured and Doan's Kidney Pills will be my friend for life."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

ALL TO HIS WIDOW

MR. MCKENZIE'S WILL IS PROBATED

Son Qualifies as Sole Executor.—Beautiful Tribute To His Helpmeet.

The will of the Hon. James A. McKenzie was probated here Tuesday afternoon. He leaves his entire estate to his widow and in the document pays her a tender tribute.

The testament in full follows:

May 6th, 1895.
This is my last will and is wholly written with my own hand. I give, devise and bequeath absolutely and in fee simple, all the estate of which I die possessed, of whatever kind or character, and wheresoever situated, to my beloved wife Amelia C. McKenzie—I only wish it was ten times as large—it would not then be a fit reward for the unwearied patience and self-sacrificing devotion she has manifested for me during our marriage life of more than thirty years.

No inventory of my estate shall be taken and I hereby appoint my wife sole executrix without bond.

I have perfect confidence that she will deal justly with our dear children—and help them as she may feel able, always reserving enough to maintain herself comfortably and independently. Witness my hand, J. A. McKENZIE, Lima, Peru, May 6th, 1895.

CODICIL NO. 1.

I earnestly recommend to my dear wife—that she use only the income of my estate, rents, interest, &c., for her maintenance—If it be found sufficient—I only make this suggestion because I fear her kindness of heart might lead her to impoverish herself in an effort to help others.

Witness my hand, J. A. McKENZIE.

Dec. 30th, 1896. Oak Grove, Ky.

CODICIL NO. 2.

My only son James A. McKenzie, Jr., having now reached his twenty-first birthday and having confidence in his integrity and capacity, I hereby appoint him joint executor with his mother of this will, and request that he be permitted to qualify as such without bond. Witness my hand, etc.

J. A. McKENZIE,

Oak Grove, Ky., December 4, 1899.

CODICIL NO. 3.

Oak Grove, Ky., Sept. 24, 1902.

I give devise and bequeath to the Columbia Finance and Trust company of Louisville, Ky., of which Mr. Attila Cox is president, the proceeds of two policies I have in the Equitable Life Insurance Co., of New York, aggregating eight thousand dollars, in trust for the benefit of my wife, the income of which shall be paid to her semi annually during her life, and at her death the principle go to my children equally. Witness my hand, etc.

J. A. McKENZIE.

Mrs. McKenzie declined to act as executrix, and her son, James A. McKenzie, Jr., of Bowling Green, qualified as sole executor of the estate.

Is It Not a Fact?

Whenever an article of real merit has acquired a reputation one usually looks for that article, if genuine, to be branded with ONLY the patentee's name.

He is dubious about the article if any one else's name is tied on to that of the patentee. All genuine MASON'S JARS have the words and the date of that patent blown in the glass. Any other brand is apt to be an imitation.

"MASON'S PATENT"

Platte river. The little caravan of transcontinental travelers are here told that they must unload their wagons and strap all their goods upon pack mules and horses. No wagon had ever yet crossed the mountains and no wagon could. Up to this year no white woman had ever crossed the continent. There were two brides in that party. The one was the young wife of Marcus Whitman; the other was the bride of his missionary associate, Rev. Samuel Parker by name. "I tell you that wagon cannot go through," I hear one of the rough members of the caravan say. I now see a set look upon the face of Dr. Whitman. His jaws snap shut with the grip of a steel trap. Then a glint comes into his eye as he says: "But I tell you that wagon will go through. These ladies, my wife and Mrs. Parker, must not be compelled to ride horseback all that way." A muttered oath comes from the lips of the rough man at the fort as he says: "All right. We will try to pull it through." And pull and push and lift that wagon through those men did. They dragged it over the mountains and across the prairies to lighten the journey of two young women who as brides accompanied their husbands to far-off missionary fields.

Scene the third: It is the year 1846. We are now standing in the White House of our national capital. The president of the United States is John Tyler. He is smooth faced, tall and spare of frame. The second member of this notable group has a huge, military body, a lionlike face. He is the one with looks expressive of the description given by a famous English jurist: "He is the most magnificent physical as well as mental specimen of his day and generation." He is the questioner. He is Daniel Webster. The third member of the group looks like a rough mountaineer. He is dead in action. His hair is uncut. But he is one of the immortals of his day. He is Marcus Whitman.

As we stand in the corner of the room I see a strange scene. Tyler and Webster, the two leaders of the American government, are being driven back and back from their old positions of statecraft by this seemingly untutored man of the backwoods. Then, like Paul before Agrippa, I see Marcus Whitman step forward, and hear him say: "Mr. Secretary, you know not what you are doing. Better, far better, barter away all the wealth and the sovereignty of the New England states for a few Newfoundlands and then surrender to England the priceless treasures of Oregon and the strategic position of the far northwest."

"Bah," answered Daniel Webster with scorn, "what is the use of Oregon to the Union? That land is wholly inaccessible. A wagon road could never be built across those mountains." Then, as Richelieu turned upon his king, I see Whitman turn and hear him triumphantly say: "Mr. Secretary, that is a grand mistake that has been made by listening to interested persons. Six years ago I was told that there was no wagon road to Oregon, and it was impossible to take a wagon there, and yet, in spite of pleadings and almost threats, I took a wagon over that road, and have it now." "Is that so?" said Webster. "Then Oregon must be saved to the Union." And so I find in these few words that the devotion which Marcus Whitman gave to his wife by compelling the men to carry his wagon over the Rocky mountains was one of the mighty means of helping to save Oregon to the Union. It proved that the far northwest and the east were not separated by impassable barriers. And it furthermore proved that all men's greatest and truest successes are always dependent upon their faithfulness in the common duties of ordinary life. Marcus Whitman's love for his country is today associated with the pure love which he bore Narcissa Prentiss. The true successes by which we will be able perhaps to do some great act for our country will be dependent upon how we fulfill the little duties of everyday domestic existence.

How His Reward Came.

How shall we close this Fourth of July eulogy upon a great nation builder and the savior of the far northwest? By finding him seated in the gubernatorial chair of Oregon? By finding him gracing the United States senate, like Sam Houston, who brought Texas into the Union? By finding him the west's favorite candidate for the presidency? Oh, no. Like Abraham Lincoln, Marcus Whitman did a great work for this Union. Like Abraham Lincoln, God took him away to his heavenly reward as soon as that work was done. The Indians, whom he came to save, lured to bitterness by the baffled foreigners, killed this noble man and his noble wife. At Wallawalla their bodies lie buried. May our lives be devoted, patriotic lives, as were those of Marcus Whitman and Narcissa Whitman. May our deaths, like theirs, be a heavenly translation. And may our neighbors, as did theirs, feel the world is better, not only because we have lived for our country, but also for our God.

You know the rest. In the book you have read.

That the British were not a year behind: The United States have kept Oregon. Because of one, Marcus Whitman. He rode eight thousand miles and was not too late.

In his single hand not a nation's fate. Perhaps, but a gift for the nation she would hardly part with today. If we may believe what the papers say upon this great northwest that was Oregon.

And Whitman! Ah, my children, he and his wife sleep now in a martyr's grave. Murdered! Murdered, both he and she. By the Indians who they went west to save.

Such is the tragic story of the life's work of the great nation builder, Marcus Whitman. It was the making of 1846, the Christian's patriot of 1846, the martyr of 1847.

(Copyright, 1914, by Louis Klingens.)

Tyler's cabinet, was willing to barter off to Lord Ashburton the whole of the far northwest for a few privileges for the American sailors to fish for cod off the banks of Newfoundland. A few years before this, to prove his utter ignorance of the intrinsic value of this land of the northwest, Daniel Webster, then the most powerful member of the United States senate, unconsciously by Clay and Calhoun and Benton, made this astounding speech: "What do we want with this vast, worthless area, this region of savages and wild beasts, of deserts, of shifting sands and whirlwinds of dust, of cactus and prairie dogs? To what use could we ever hope to put these great deserts, or these great mountain ranges, impenetrable and covered to their bases with eternal snows? What can we ever hope to do with the western coast of 3,000 miles, rock bound, cheerless and uninteresting, and not a harbor on it? What use have we for such a country? Mr. President, I will never vote a cent from the public treasury to place the Pacific coast one inch nearer Boston than it is now." Ah, me! Am I going beyond my right in declaring that Marcus Whitman, kneeling upon the top of the Rocky mountains on the Fourth of July, 1836, and taking possession of that western coast for God and the United States, was an inspired statesman?

Whitman's Brave Enterprise.

But Marcus Whitman did more than inspired vision and opened ears. He had a consecrated, noble Christian heart, as well as a clear brain. He was a gospel missionary who was ready, if necessary, to die if by his death he could only accomplish the work which God had given him to do. In order to save Oregon for the Union, in midwinter, alone, he rode straight across this continent. He defied the warning elements as well as savage tribes, the terrors of the snows and the perils of the cold as well as the Indian tomahawks.

After the Hudson Bay company found it was unable to stem back western immigration it took another course. It decided to import its own loyal English subjects from Canada and gradually crowd the Americans to the wall. It tried to do with the Americans as the Americans of the east did with the Indians. About a century ago Joseph Elliott was the agent of the Holland Land company, which owned nearly all the lumber about the region of the western part of New York near to Niagara Falls. One day a famous Indian chief of that time, Red Jacket by name, met Mr. Elliott and sat down with him upon a log to talk. In a quiet tone, to Joseph Elliott, "Move along, Joe," said Mr. Elliott, surprised at the request, moved a little along the log. In a little while came the second request of "Move along, Joe," and a third request, "Move along, Joe," until Mr. Elliott was at the end of the log. Then, when the Indian said "Move along, Joe," Mr. Elliott became angry and answered: "Why, man, I cannot move along any farther without landing in the mud." "Ugh," said Red Jacket, "I go to white man in reference to Indian land. White man says to Indian, 'Move along, move along, move along,' until white man pushes Indian off the face of the earth."

The tactics adopted by the Americans toward the Indians were imitated by the Hudson Bay company. It began settling Oregon with its own friends, in the hope that if a treaty between the United States and England should be negotiated, leaving the possession of the country to be decided by popular vote, the English settlers would outnumber the Americans. Whitman no sooner learned the nature of the scheme than he set out, winter though it was, for Washington to put the government on its guard and warn it against negotiating any treaty by which the position of Oregon would be affected. That lonely ride from Oregon to Washington in the winter of 1842 is a story of personal intrepidity and patriotism which ought to be immortal. Would you and I be willing to sacrifice for our country and our God as Marcus Whitman sacrificed? Would you and I be willing, if necessary, to give up our all and lay down our lives in suffering greater than any soldier ever suffered upon the American battlefields?

But, as I take a step further in my study of this remarkable nation builder, I find, as with Marcus Whitman, the greatest of men are always the gentlest of men. Furthermore, I find that the seemingly unimportant incidents of their lives, which they did out of the pureness and nobility of their hearts, have sometimes had the most far reaching effects in their ultimate triumph.

Not only do we admire Marcus Whitman as a patriot and a hero, but as a lover and a husband, and it is a remarkable fact that his public success was in no small degree due to the qualities he displayed in his private life. Do you ask how the one could contribute to the other? I answer by rapidly drawing three verbal pictures. Scene the first: We are now standing in the little village church of Prattsburg, in the central part of New York state. It is in the winter of 1836; February is the month. A rather short, heavily built man of reddish hair and beard, with determination marked upon every lineament of his face, is the bridegroom. Dr. Marcus Whitman is his name. A sweet faced young lady, Narcissa Prentiss, daughter of Judge Prentiss, is the bride. In the presence of their village friends the young couple become one. The congratulations are spoken. The words of farewell are now said. The bride and groom turn their faces west, and the long bridal trip of 3,000 miles commences.

Two Brides in the Party.

Scene the second: We are now at the frontier station of Fort Laramie, of the

Platte river. The little caravan of transcontinental travelers are here told that they must unload their wagons and strap all their goods upon pack mules and horses. No wagon had ever yet crossed the mountains and no wagon could. Up to this year no white woman had ever crossed the continent. There were two brides in that party. Talmage Sermon

By Rev. Frank De Witt Talmage, D.D.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 3.—At this season of patriotic jubilee, when the great ones of our nation's history are recalled, the preacher chooses for his theme the career of Marcus Whitman, through whose heroism and self sacrifice the great empire of the northwest was added to our national domain. The text is Matthew xxi, 42, "The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner."

Every Fourth of July it is the custom of patriotic speakers to eulogize the names of George Washington and Samuel Adams and James Otis and Joseph Warren and Patrick Henry and De Witt Clinton and John Adams and John Hancock and Robert Morris and Benjamin Franklin and John Witherspoon and Thomas Jefferson and Nathaniel Greene and Alexander Hamilton and John Jay. These were the mental giants who heaved out of the new world's quarries the titanic stones which became the foundation layers of our national government. But these were not the only men in those early days of our national history to whom we, as a people, are indebted. We ought to be careful lest the glory of those luminaries blinds us to the grandeur of character of patriots less conspicuous, whose courage, devotion and self sacrifice helped to establish our liberties or to extend our opportunities. Tomorrow we shall celebrate our national holiday. Let me present to you today a name which ought to be familiar to us all, but which is seldom placed in the rank it ought to have on the roll of the nation's heroes. While we honor the men who cleared away the debris and dug out the foundation stones of our national capital let us spare, too, a few words of praise for a man to whose daring and perseverance it is due that at least one if not several stars were added to those that glitter on our national flag. I place my wreath of immortality today on the grave of Marcus Whitman, who, practically single handed, saved the states of Oregon and Washington to the Union. To the heroes of Bunker Hill and Saratoga and Yorktown we owe it that our eastern shores are lapped by the waters of the Atlantic; to Marcus Whitman, we owe it that we hold on our western shores the crystal gates of the Pacific. I praise the Marcus Whitman of 1846, who placed the despised capstone of Oregon upon the topmost pinnacle of the Washington legislative hall, made up of the stone of many states.

Nation's Debt to Marcus Whitman.

How did Marcus Whitman save Oregon to the United States? First, by heeding the Macedonian gospel cry of helplessness. Like the pilgrim fathers he obeyed the direct summons which came to him in the voice of many thunderings to carry Christ's message of salvation even unto the uttermost parts of the earth. He left his home among the beautiful hills of central New York state, not out of a spirit of adventure, as a Chancier Astor might plunge into the African jungles to hunt big game. He left it not, as did John McLaughlin, to dangle before the avaricious eyes of North American Indians his prizes, which would make the red skinned hunters more expert in setting their traps and bringing in their piles of furs. He left it not as did the English gentlemen who came to Jamestown, Va., in the hope of becoming landowning aristocrats in a new world, or as did the Spanish marauders, who, in their conquest of Mexico, stole upon the land what the pirates of old used to steal upon the seas. But Marcus Whitman and Samuel Parker dared cross the American continent because from the far off Willamette valley came the story of the bitter need there was for the gospel of peace to be preached to the Indian war chiefs, with scalping knives and tomahawks at belts, who, by their actions, said: "We need the white man's book of heaven. We need the white man's Christ."

A Strange Quest.

To describe how that Macedonian cry of helplessness came to Marcus Whitman, let me transplant you in imagination back to the little frontier town of St. Louis, Mo., and, like the shadow on the dial of Ahas, turn back time until the year 1832. We will suppose, in order to make the wild, weird scene we are about to describe more vivid, that the old Indian fighter and territorial governor, up to 1821, and the United States superintendent of the Indians, from 1821 to 1838, General William Clark, is spending a social evening with two of his old friends, who followed Lewis and himself on their famous journey of the far northwest. Suddenly a messenger raps at the door. In answer to the gruff call, "Come in," there enter four Flathead Indians. Two of them are aged warriors, two young stalwart braves. "Where are you from, my men?" asked the general, eying them from head to foot. "From the murdering waters of the Columbia? Impossible. From the Pacific shores? Nay, nay, that cannot be. For what did you come? For the white man's book of heaven? What didst thou have to travel 3,000 miles to hunt up the white man's book of heaven when the representatives of the Hudson Bay company have far more than enough of your furs?" "Yes," answered the Nez Percé Indians. "We have come 3,000

OVER 700 EMIGRANTS ARE DROWNED.

Vessel Struck Rock.—Were Bound For New York.—27 Survivors.

(Cablegram.)

LONDON, July 5.—More than 700 emigrants bound from Copenhagen for New York on the Scandinavian-American steamer Norge have been drowned. Twenty-seven survivors were landed at Grimby, fifteen miles southeast of Hull, last night. The Norge struck on a rock last Tuesday in the North Atlantic, about 200 miles off the coast of Scotland, and foundered. There was a heavy sea and most of the boats were smashed. Only two of the boats succeeded in getting away, and these were picked up by a Grimby vessel.

Birth-marks which mark and mar the outside of the body are a grief to every mother whose children may bear them. But for every child who bears a birth mark on the skin there are many who bear an indelible birth-mark on the mind. Nervous mothers have nervous children and many a man and woman owes an irritable and despondent temperament to those days of dread when the mother waited the hour of her maternity. The use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription strengthens the mother for the trial. With strength comes a buoyancy of spirits and quietness of mind, which is one of the happiest gifts a mother can bestow on her offspring. By giving vigor and elasticity to the delicate womanly organs "Favorite Prescription" practically does away with the pain of maternity and makes the baby's advent as natural and as simple as the blossoming of a flower. There is no opium, cocaine or other narcotic contained in "Favorite Prescription."

PEOPLE AND THINGS

IN ROME.—The New Era is in receipt of a newspaper clipping from Rome, the paper being "Il Giornale d'Italia." It says: "E' arrivata recentemente a Roma Miss Hallie Erminia Rives la giovane scrittrice americana i cui romanzi ottengono ora il maggior successo negli Stati Uniti e in Inghilterra"—and various other things. Tom Datillo translates the item as follows: "There has arrived recently at Rome, Miss Hallie Erminia Rives, the young American writer whose romances at the time present are of a great success in the United States and in England. Her last work, The Castaway, has been published, during the past week at New York, London and Paris. It is a story whose protagonist is Lord Byron. The most of its scenes are laid at Venice, Ravenna, Pisa—all the places where the English poet lived and loved and found the inspiration of the most beautiful and vibrant of his artistic creations. The Castaway is to be at once translated in Italian."

GOOD SHOOTING.—At the "Grand American Gun Club tournament" in Indianapolis, Charles O. Prowse of this city, led the Kentucky contingent during the entire shoot. He broke 554 out of 600 targets, his per cent being 92½ for the week. Mr. Prowse won several prizes.

JAPANESE SMILES.—The etiquette of smiles is, perhaps one of the severest of all etiquettes in Japan. When you have lived in that land of smiles you will learn in time that when you can understand a Japanese smile you may hope to understand the people. A daughter-in-law must always present a smiling face to her mother-in-law; a servant must smile when her mistress dismisses her. But the news of death must be told with laughter. Laughter is reserved for special occasions, and has no relation to joy; smiles are used on every occasion to conceal real feelings; they are very seldom significant of pleasure. A Japanese could speak of Shuster and smile.

IN DEAH H'ENGLAND.—Among the "don'ts" which Americans mixing in London society must be particularly careful to remember is that which prescribes reversing. "Don't reverse when walking," is the eleventh commandment in London. A story is going the rounds of a man, and a well known man, too, who was noticed to be reversing at the last state ball at Buckingham palace. He was noticed by one of the officials and requested to leave immediately although it is said he was reversing only to avoid a collision. Emmett Jones is much wrought up over the matter.

VERY MODEST.—Exchanges are telling of a Fulton girl who faints at the sight of undressed lumber; of a Princeton girl who locks herself in her own room every time she wants to change her mind; of a Murray girl who never thinks of retiring at night if there is a copy of the Christian Observer in her room; of a Benton girl who hesitates to walk in the potato patch because the potatoes have eyes; and of a Kuttawa girl who fears to talk when in the corn field because the stalks have ears.

R. LEE SUTER DEAD

FATALLY SHOT BY YOUNG CAROUSER.

A Prominent Attorney and Politician of Louisville.—Slayer Under Arrest.

(Special to New Era.)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 4.—R. Lee Suter, a member of the board of public safety, an attorney and for several years an important figure in Democratic politics, was shot and killed yesterday by Sanford Vaughn, Jr., the son of a wealthy contractor. Vaughn, who admits that he fired the shot, says he was celebrating the Fourth of July. The tragedy occurred eight miles above Louisville, where Suter and a party of friends were camping and fishing. Suter was asleep on a cot and the bullet passed through his breast, severing an artery and produced a wound similar to that received by Wm. Goebel. Suter was brought to Louisville, but bled to death in a few hours at the City hospital. Vaughn was driving along the river road, and according to the statements of the three young men with him, was shooting from side to side, one of the bullets finding its way to the river bank where Suter's tent was pitched. Vaughn was arrested. Mr. Suter's father and mother live in Frankfort.

IT COSTS YOU NOTHING

L. L. Elgin Will Return Your Money if Mi-o-na Does Not Cure You.

There are hundreds of people in Hopkinsville who were not the least bit surprised when they read in the "New Era" that L. L. Elgin was selling Mi-o-na on a guarantee to refund the money in case it did not cure. This marvelous dyspepsia remedy will cure the worst case of indigestion, headache, dizziness or the general played out condition that afflicts everyone suffering with stomach trouble.

Mi-o-na does not simply relieve; it cures. L. L. Elgin can tell you of many well known people in this city whom this remedy has restored to health, often after they have tried many other methods of treatment with little or no benefit.

The best kind of advertising is the praise of a pleased customer. And there are hundreds in Hopkinsville today praising Mi-o-na because it cured them. A few months ago they could eat nothing without wondering what the result would be. Since using Mi-o-na they eat what they want and when they want with no fear of suffering.

This medicine is in the form of a small tablet, very pleasant to take and costs only 50c a box. It is a pure medicine that speedily and permanently cures all forms of stomach trouble, and is the only one that can be sold under a positive guarantee without any restriction, to refund the money if it does not cure.

AT THE ASYLUM

Annual Picnic Was a Thoroughly Enjoyable One.

From Tuesday's Daily.

The annual picnic at the Asylum yesterday was thoroughly enjoyed by everybody. The patients had a happy day, and the guests were royally treated. Dr. Board was an ideal host, and those who were present from the city and elsewhere are today singing his praises. A splendid barbecued dinner was served and in the afternoon, there was a fine band concert in the auditorium.

Bring Your Wife Along

Women are the best judges of dress, their own or the men's. They know a good thing when they see it, and you may rely firmly on their good judgment.

Bring her with you by all means, let her help you select your summer clothes. She'll understand that genuine goodness of a Schloss Art-Tailored Suit better, perhaps, than you. However you are sure of good treatment here whether you bring her or not.

The difference in the cost of a Schloss made suit and that made by the merchant tailor will be enough to open her eyes to the possibilities for money saving. Just think, we sell a suit like either of those shown in the picture at so little a price as

$7.50 to $15.00

The merchant tailor would want to charge $25.00 for a suit not so good in fit, style or quality. Here is a clear saving which you wife can find good use for in adding to her own wardrobe. No wonder she is bent on breaking you of the merchant tailor habit.

OUR BUSINESS

Is very satisfactory but we want more summer trade and are doing our best in every way to deserve it.

Among other things we are cutting the prices on some articles almost to cost, for instance:

HALL TREES AT $7.00.
SIDE BOARDS AT $10.00.

This is done so you will come and look over the rest of our goods for we want you to call often and we want you to feel every time that this is the best place to buy.

FURNITURE

We guarantee that everything bought here is worth the price, and very often, as you know, it is worth more than we charge for it.

A Sale of Women's Tailor-Made Suits Without a Parallel Will Be Inaugurated Saturday Morning

SOUNDS sensational, doesn't it? But the statement is justified by the facts, for we are going to sell $10 and $12.50 suits for $5; $15 and $16.50 suits for $7.50; $18.50 to $22 suits for $10 and $25 to $35 suits for $15.

OF COURSE these are extreme values—other suits will not be sold quite as cheap. There is not a tailor made suit in the stock, however, that has not been reduced more or less—every one of the garments in this sale is from our regular stock and the first prices are what we originally marked the garments to sell for.

There is reason for all things, and the simple reason for taking such a tremendous loss on our stock of Women's Tailor-made suits is because we have too many of them—close to 100 spring and summer wool suits are on hand—that's by far too many and we believe by making such radical price cuts we will clear them out in short order. This much we are positive of, if the women of Hopkinsville realize how cheap we are offering superior made and stylish suits, not one would remain in stock after a days selling.

If we told you the actual loss we are taking on these suits the figures would undoubtedly amaze you, but we look on the other side of it, and figure how much we will get out of the suits plus the value of the advertisement—besides our method of doing business permits of carrying no stock over from one season to another.

DO not for a moment imagine because the price has been cut so deep these suits are in any way undesirable. On the contrary there is not a single garment but what was bought for this spring's business and the identical styles are being worn today by fashionable women.

Frankel's BUSY STORE

Facts About This Sale: There are over 98 suits in this sale. More than 20 different styles. The miss of 14 or the stout woman requiring 40 bust measure can choose from the great variety of styles. In a great many instances the tailor got more for making the suit than we ask for it.

WE include in this offering every woman and misses suit that we have in the house. If you were in the store yesterday, or a week ago, and priced a suit, come down tomorrow and you will be surprised for how little it can be bought. Don't fail to come.

THE STYLES are various blouse effects, Etons, straight coat suits, military suits, corset fitting suits, long coat suits, cape suits and tailored suits in dress and walking lengths. The Materials are English Cheviots, Broadcloths, Serges, Mobairs, Etamines, Covert Cloth, French Voiles, Venetians, Fancy Mixtures, Men's Suitings and Homespuns—all colors among them; the majority are black, blue and brown; also several shades of gray in various fancy mixtures in light and dark shades. Linings and Trimmings—Coats are variously trimmed with self-pleats, piping, silk straps, fancy ornaments, self-straps, fancy buttons and some with capes; others plain tailored, sleeves in the newest pouch style, skirts all this season's pleated and kilt effects, trimmed to match the jacket. The coats, with the exception of a very few, are lined with taffeta, the balanced being lined with satin. There are plenty styles of all sizes to fit a miss of 14 or the stout woman with 40 bust measure. Remember, this sale embraces our entire stock of high class tailored cloth suits, not a single garment reserved.

REV. DR. FOGARTIE

CALLED TO PASTORATE OF LOCAL CHURCH.

Election Held Sunday By Congregation of 9th St. Presbyterian Church.

Rev. J. E. Fogartie, D. D., who has been acting as stated supply for the 9th St. Presbyterian church for the past seven months, was elected to the pastorate of that church Sunday morning.

The congregation has desired to have Dr. Fogartie as pastor for a long time but difficulties in the way had heretofore prevented. He will probably accept the call, pending action of the presbytery, and assume duties of pastor at once.

The church has been extremely fortunate in electing him and is to be congratulated on the choice. He is a man of the true southern type of gentleman, a native of Charleston, S. C., educated in the schools of his own state and of North Carolina and having had a wide experience in pastoral work before he took the chair of philosophy in the Southwestern Presbyterian University.

Dr. Fogartie is a man of deep piety and marked pulpit ability and is a scholar of high attainments having received four degrees besides the degree of D. D., among these being that of Doctor of Philosophy. He will be an addition to the already excellent preachers of the city and will with his interesting family add to the high tone of the social life here.

If he accepts the call it will be necessary for both the presbyteries having control of this church, the presbytery of Muhlenburg, and the presbytery of Nashville, of which he is a member to pass on the call before he can be installed as pastor.

SICK AND INJURED

MISS BRASHER SUES FOR $1,000.

Put Off of Train On Tennessee Central at Wrong Station.

John L. Brasher, guardian for Miss Annie May Brasher, has filed suit in her behalf against the Tennessee Central railroad company for $1,000. The petition states that on April 4 Miss Brasher was engaged in teaching school near the station of Chester on the defendant company's line, and on that date regularly paid her fare in coin for transportation to that point. It is alleged, however, that when the train reached Masonville, about three miles from Chester the conductor forced her to get off, telling her that was her station. She says she insisted that he was wrong but he made her get off, jerking her from the step and causing her to sprain her ankle. She was then forced to walk the distance from Masonville to Chester with a weak ankle and carry a heavy valise on a warm morning from the effects of which she was made sick and suffered severely from her ankle, damaging her in the sum prayed for.

The State School Book commission has adopted for five years the list of school books submitted by the American Book company, of Cincinnati, for use in the common schools, that list having received the votes of over one hundred of the county boards of the state.

The Christian county commission, composed of Miss Katie McDaniel, superintendent of county schools, W. T. Fowler, county judge, and O. H. Anderson, county attorney, voted for the adoption, as a whole, of the list submitted by the American Book company, which had the only full list before the commission. Forty-seven of the one hundred and nineteen counties voted this way.

Warren-Penn.

From Wednesday's Daily. Mr. Robert F. Warren, of Guthrie, and Miss Ruth Penn, of Cerulean, were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony at 6:30 o'clock this morning at the residence of the bride's father, Capt G. T. Penn. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. R. M'Alies, of Cadis. Immediately after the marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Warren left for the World's Fair and from there they will go to the Great Lakes to spend their honeymoon. The bride is a charming and popular young lady who has a large circle of friends in Hopkinsville where for several sessions she was one of the most capable and valued teachers in the public schools. Mr. Warren is a worthy young business man and a cashier of the Guthrie bank.

FORMER CHIEF JUSTICE DEAD.

(Special to New Era.) FRANKFORT, Ky., July 6.—Former Chief Justice Joseph W. Lewis died at his home near Georgetown today.
